BraunAbility Inboard Lift

The strong silent type.

Let's be honest, with a wheelchair lift in your van you're not exactly going to enjoy the silence. The BraunAbility Inboard Lift is the exception. We now have a lift that is so quiet, it is indistinguishable from the overall sound in a vehicle. Even when looking at a spectrogram of the sound in the vehicle, it is impossible to see a difference between an empty van and a van with the BraunAbility Inboard Lift installed. One of the many features that helped achieve this is the auto stow, it keeps tabs on the pressure in the lift and ensures that the lift remains tightly stowed over long periods of time. In the words of the famous Austrian duo, Hans & Franz:

- We're here TO PUMP YOU UP!

The BraunAbility Inboard Lift is now 10 percent lighter than the previous corresponding BraunAbility Lifts, but solid as a rock compared to other lifts in the market. In fact, it's close to 300 percent more rigid than similar lifts.

The perhaps most eye-catching part of this lift is its design. We came up with a number of aesthetic features that are both functional and beautiful. For instance, an illuminated hand pendant and platform lights along the sides of the platform.
